RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT

The cabinet-making tradition, combined with technological advances, is a treasure you can rely on for detection and processing of the best materials.

Disegnarecasa manages to create products, functional, contemporary and with an unmistakable style, able to combine the highest cabinet making tradition and craftsmanship, which has always characterized the company, with the use of sophisticated machine tools and the latest production technologies.

The innovative machinery used to produce the Disegnarecasa collections allow the wood to be modeled respecting its nature, as well as guarantee absolute precision in the realization of the details. Added to these is the irreplaceable work of craftsmen able to give the signed projects Disegnarecasa allure of unique pieces made by hand.

The final product is the result of an approach to craftsmanship as rare as most valuable; at the same time, innovation is constantly applied to the production techniques with the aim of perfecting woodworking and attention to detail.

Our products are born from the processing techniques related to cabinet-making tradition and the use of cutting-edge technologies. This allows you to make quality products that preserve their characteristics and distinctive.

In this sense, apparent irregularities - such as differences in color, structure, dimensions, and materials that compose them - are not considered defects but features that make the product unique and refined.

The quality controls are strictly carried out over the entire production process the raw materials are subjected to detailed tests of qualitative and functional compliance at every stage of their processing.

The finished product is subjected to a thorough testing of functionality and a thorough analysis of the aesthetic conformity in accordance with the originale.

Living design space is to know the precious materials, like innovation and tradition, choose a unique and personal style, knowing how to present telling their own story.

Elegance is the sum of "pleasure and value."

ENVIRONMENTAL SUSTAINABILITY

Our factory adheres to all regulations for the protection of the environment, such as the guarantee of ensuring a cycle in the reconstruction of vegetation, in our opinion industriative but the maximum real protection of some European factories, as well as highlighting the search for the best materials suppliers first for creating low impact articles.
